Constitutional Amendment Research Project

You will be assigned a constitutional amendment. Working in groups, you will research a current event/issue through which the assigned amendment is being challenged, debated, or otherwise discussed. After researching your current event, you will put together a PowerPoint presentation that follows the guidelines stated below.

Guidelines

1. Your presentation should clearly state the amendment you have been assigned, a definition of the amendment, the current event/issue you are researching, and how the amendment is being challenged/debated/discussed through this event/topic.
2. PowerPoints should include a balance of both text and images. Content should be organized and clear.
3. Each group member will need to present at least one slide. Prepare your slide ahead of time; do not just read directly off the slide.
4. Your presentation should be approx. 5-7 minutes in length, with time for questions from the class.
5. If your current event/issue revolves around a debate over an amendment, include a discussion of both sides of the debate.

Research Guidelines

Below are some questions you can ask yourself to guide and organize your research:

1. What does my assigned amendment do? What rights does it protect, what measures does it put into place, or what does it prevent?
2. What is a current issue or event that is relevant to my assigned amendment?
3. In relation to the current issue or event, is the amendment being challenged, debated, or discussed?
4. What is being challenged, debated, or discussed about this amendment in relation to the current event/issue?
